"I can see the beauty of working for a company which promotes its employees' engagement as volunteers, and I am really thankful for having these opportunities."

- Tri Anggraeni, Volunteer

"Even though we are facing the challenges of this pandemic, mentoring can still be conducted online. Covid-19 will not kill our enthusiasm to participate in mentoring activities."

- Ni Nengah Kartika Program Participant "(...) Online activities are required - We hope that online mentoring can be further developed in the future."

- Yunus Ismail Program Coordinator

4. Next Step – YouthLinks 2.0

... combining all the needs and services we offer to young people, while automatizing processes.

With YouthLinks 2.0, we aim to further professionalize the digital platform due to its high demand and importance.

YouthLinks 2.0

(Global) Mentoring

Automated processes will facilitate the:

- Registration
- Preparation
- Matching &
- Monitoring

of mentoring opportunities; aiming to further scale global offers.

Content Library

An overarching content library will:

- Facilitate mentoring activities for mentors
- Give young people the opportunity to train themselves independently
- Enable the central storage and sharing of mentoring materials

YouthLinks 2.0

Marketplace

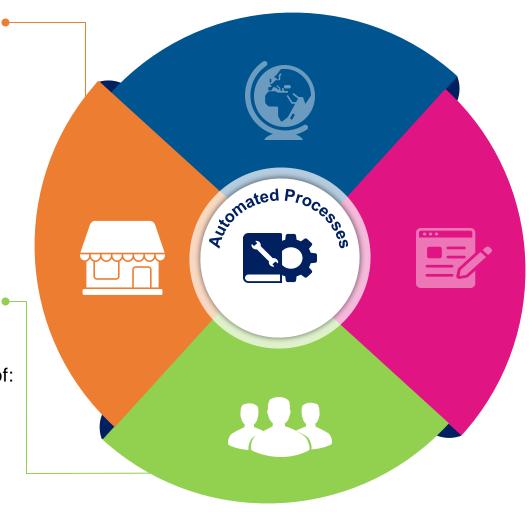

A marketplace for quality-support and participation opportunities will facilitate:

- The search and reinforcement of talent within the organization
- Young entrepreneurs' access to tailor-made support
- For volunteers to offer their skills and experiences pro-actively

Peer-communities

Peer-communities enable autonomous collaboration and peer-support within countries, regions and on a global level of:

- Young people and SOS Children's Villages Alumni networks
- Volunteer networks
- SOS Children's Villages Staff Networks
